IPrism – An Intellectual Property (IP) Game and Film Competition

The National Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Policy, which was approved by the Union Cabinet on 12th May 2016, is a significant move forward to encourage creativity and stimulate innovation in the country. Intellectual Property plays a critical and positive role in promoting economic growth. The Policy reinforces the strengths of IPRs to acquire both economic and social benefits for India. It is essential to create awareness about Intellectual Property Rights amongst the citizens of the country and give them the umbrella of protection for their innovations and creations.

Counterfeiting and Piracy cause significant loss to the industry, pose safety issues and hence it is important to increase awareness of such menaces. The Government has been working tirelessly to strengthen the Intellectual Property Rights regime in the country.

The Cell for IPR Promotion and Management (CIPAM) set up under the aegis of the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion to effectively implement the National Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Policy 2016, in partnership with Associated Chambers of Commerce & Industry (ASSOCHAM) and Ericsson India have launched 'IPrism' - a one of its kind IP Competition for students enrolled and currently studying at graduate, post graduate, M Phil and PhD levels in India.

The competition invites students to submit films on Piracy & Counterfeiting under two categories of 30 and 60 seconds. Another category in the competition is for a mobile gaming app on IP.

I invite and urge all young students of the country to spark their creative thinking and take part in this competition to serve the nation, while at the same time getting recognition and winning cash prizes!

The relevant material and conditions for participation in the event can be accessed at www.iprism.co.in.

With best wishes for a healthy competition,

Yours sincerely
