Respected Professor,

Please find the message below from our Revered Chancellor. Request you to kindly circulate the message to staff and students fraternity of GRI to take best of advantage from it.

Dear Chancellor Dr.Annamalai,

We are pleased to share that the Oxford India Centre for Sustainable Development (OICSD) is offering a range of scholarships for outstanding Indian students working on India's sustainable development for October 2021 entry. Each year, we fund students with exceptional academic records and those who have demonstrable leadership in research and research-related impact in their fields of study. We look for outstanding candidates who want to adopt a multidisciplinary approach to research and are committed to returning to India.

Oxford Indira Gandhi Graduate Scholarship

A full scholarship applicable to select Master's programs and any DPhil program in Oxford, but the proposed area of study must be relevant to OICSD's agenda of interdisciplinary research on sustainable development and India. Two scholarships are available for 2021 entry. For more details, please see here.

Oxford Indira Gandhi-Radhakrishnan Scholarship

A fully funded scholarship for Indian students applying for the MSc in Modern South Asian Studies, University of Oxford. This is a 12-month taught programme offered jointly by the Oxford School of Global and Area Studies (OSGA) and the Faculty of Oriental Studies. For more details on the scholarship application process and eligibility, please see here.

The Gopal Subramaniam Scholarship

A full scholarship for DPhil research in any discipline, generously endowed by Mr Gopal Subramaniam. Please see here for more details.

Cornelia Scrabji Scholarship

A partial scholarship for certain taught courses offered by the Faculty of Law. Please see here.

Ratanshaw Bomanji Zaiwalla Scholarship

A scholarship established through the generous support of Mr Sarosh Zaiwalla, open to applicants for certain taught courses offered by the Faculty of Law. See here for more details.
